Pres. Davidson Delivers Talk At Convocation

TKE's Winners In Scholarship

Hamilton's 137th academic year opened officially yesterday morning with an all college convocation in the Hall of Commons. Dr. Carter Davidson, President of Union College, was the principal speaker for the occasion. An honorary Doctorate of Humane Letters was conferred on Dr. Davidson during the convocation ceremony.

The newly established President's cup for high academic standing among the Hill's organized social groups was awarded to Tau Kappa Epsilon, whose members attained the highest scholastic ranking last semester. Robert Schaff, head of TKE accepted the trophy from President McEwen.

Dr. Davidson took as the basis for his talk some common mistakes in terminology in our modern world. He showed how these have developed into misinterpretations of values. For instance, he said, we mistake speed and quantity for quality.

Likewise, in government, there are too many examples of states whose leaders haave failed to recognize that the controls of republican government must be tempered with democratic spirit.

A similar confusion exists between training and education, the former being mere imitation, while the latter should develope a process for analizing any problem which life may present. Real education, to prepare for leadership as well as for membership in society, should deal with character.

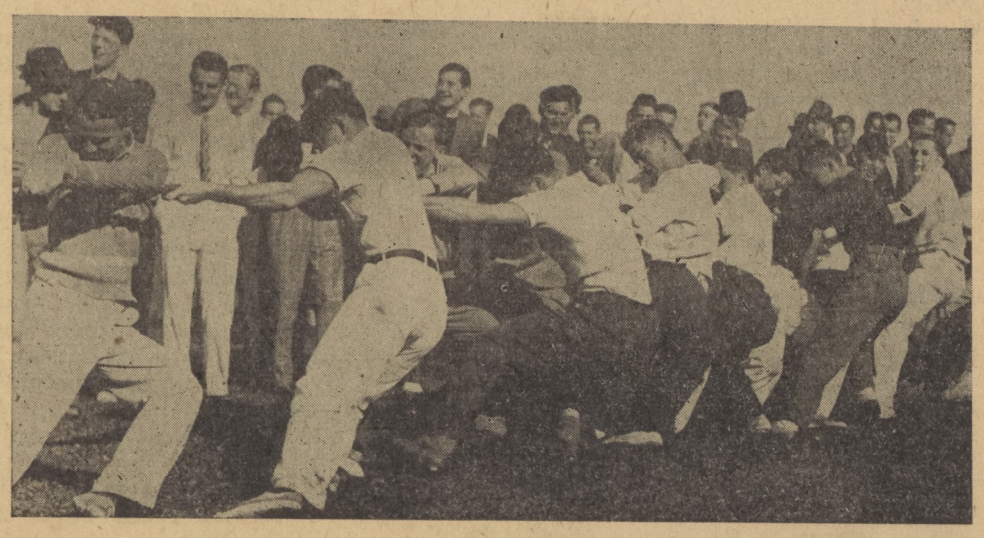
Dr. Davidson concluded his remarks with an appeal for students to " . . . use your education to make your lives effective in the Age which is yours."

Lenczowski's Book Out Last August

"Russia and the West in Iran," by Professor George Lenczowski of Hamilton's political science department, the first volume devoted exclusively to the study of recent political developments in Iran, was published last month by the Cornell University Press.

Professor Lenczowski, who was press attache at the Polish Legation in Teheran during the critical period of 1942-45, analyzes the big-power rivalry in Iran between 1918 and 1948. Concluding that the latest act in the struggle between East and West had ended with the victory for the anti-Communist forces, he nevertheless asserts that "such a victory, however, can never be definite as long as there is a center from which Communism radiates and as long as the opposition is apt to make mistakes."

Traditional Freshman-Sophomore Scramble



Sophs Successful In Flag Rush

Repel Heated Freshman Onslaught; Outpulled In Tug-of-War Afterward

The Class of 1952, winners of the flag rush as freshmen, successfully defended the coveted flag against the furious onslaught of the freshmen yesterday afternoon on the lawn east of Middle Dorm. However, the Class of '53 managed to salvage some prestige by overpowering the Sophomores in the tug of war on the soccer field. The contests were directed by the members of Was Los, Junior honor society.

The frosh sought in vain to push or shove members of the class above the shoulders of the struggling mob beneath the flag. Several attempts to employ the same tactics as used by the victorious Class of '52 last year were parried by the experienced Sophs, who had stationed several of their biggest members at the base of each tree.

As a result of the flag rush, the Class of '53 will not be allowed to wear red, the traditional color of Union, until after the football game with the Dutchmen, on November 12. By virtue of winning the tug of war, however, the incoming class will be treated to a beer party by the sophs.

D.T., the sophomore honor society, which is in charge of Freshmen conduct, met with the Class of '53 on Sunday and outlined the program for this this year. The Frosh must wear their hats and keep off the grass at all times until after Christmas vacation. The beer party to celebrate the victory of the Freshmen in the Tug of War will be held on October 1.

WIT REGARDS, FREDDIE

Last night as I was sitting in a booth at Frankie's quietly having a beer, I became aware of two bright eyes peering at me questioningly from the opposite seat. Suddenly the eyes blinked and up on the table sneaked a pint-sized mouse. He dolfed his battered bowler and flicked an ash from his cigar. In spite of his baggy pants and tattered waistcoat, he seemed an extremely debonair mouse. Winking at me he pulled a large piece of paper from his pocket. The mouse handed the page to me and then, as quietly as he had come, scampered off. I read the paper and this is what I found:

Da guys around here call me Freddie, see. I stays here and picks up da crumbs. I also likes beer, yeah. I can't leave dis joint at night 'cause dere's a cat named Lulu what gives me da bum's rush. In da day I goes up da hill and sees me buddies. For alot of beer and some cheese I can keep you in da know, boss. Tink it over.

Wit regards, Freddie

HEARD AROUND THE CAMPUS

"I've been standing here a good many years watching the men of Hamilton come and go. Until now I have remained silent, but now I think its about time to say a few things.

"It certainly is wonderful each fall to see the men work so hard getting their fraternity houses looking so well. It ought to make a good impression on the freshmen to see all the mowing, raking, painting and cleaning being done on their account. Hamilton is such a beautiful spot I only hope the various houses continue to take pride in looking good even after rushing is finished and the freshmen are no longer as green as the grass under my feet.

"You'll hear from me again. This talking business is fun for a change, although I'm a little rusty. For now, good-night."

Thanks Alex

174 Freshmen Enter College For Fall Term

One hundred seventy four new Hamiltonians, 164 of them freshmen, were withstanding the rigors of orientation and rushing as the school year got under way this week. Placement exams and registration occupied their mornings and afternoons, while the evenings were devoted to the initial visits to the various fraternity houses. The pledging period opened last night.

The new class has only eight members who are service veterans and only one of them is married. Sixteen of the 174 are sons of alumni and 37.5% of the class reside outside New York State. Public schools prepared 59% of the men, while 38.1% come from preparatory schools.

The remaining 2.9% of the new men are foreign students. Two come from Germany and the other three are representatives of France, Germany and Sweden.

Charlatans Meet; To Organize Club

The Charlatans, Hamilton dramatic group, will have its first meeting Monday evening it was announced today. The group will meet in Root 26 at 8:00 P. M. At this time the club plans to organize itself and formulate some plans for the coming semester. It is requested that at this first meeting only those men who have worked with the Charlatans in past years be present. A general meeting for freshmen and other new men interested in the club will be held later in the week.

At present the club is attempting to begin its second year under complete student guidance. The Charlatans feel that it is definately necessary for them to develop a comprehensive plan which when carried out, will make the club stronger on campus.

Charlatans' members commented this week that they feel

College Names Ten New Men To Faculty

Most Fill Places Vacated In June

The Hamilton College Administration has announced the addition of ten new faculty members to fill the vacancies that were created last June.

Mr. R. M. Browning, a graduate of William Jules College, '37, in Missouri, comes to the Hill this year as the Assistant Professor in German. Before coming to Hamilton, Mr. Browning was an instructor at Princeton. During the war he spent two years in Germany working with the military government. Mr. Browning is married and now lives at the Huntington House. Through his marriage he is related to a former Hamilton man, Bernhard Ulmer, '29, who is now head of the graduate German department at Princeton.

Returning to his alma mater as Assistant Professor in Public Speaking is Mr. Robert Carson. Mr. Carson is a member of Sigma Phi and was graduated from Hamilton in 1935. He did graduate work at both Hobart and Cornell. For three years Mr. Carson taught in the American University at Cairo, leaving there in 1939 for work at Iowa State and later Cornell.

The Assistant Professorship in Political Science this year will be filled by Mr. Allan Healy. He attended Williams College, where he was football captain and a member of Gargoyle, the Senior Honorary Society. Mr. Healy first came to the Hill with the Williams football team in 1924 and remarked then that "Hamilton is the greatest college in the country, next to Williams."

Since his graduation he has coached football at Williams and was very successful as an Attorney in Chicago throughout the days just before and during the depression. He was active in the civic affairs and politics of Illinois. During the war Mr. Healy entered, as a private, the air corps, spent fifteen months overseas and was honorably discharged holding the rank of Captain. Since the war he has taken up teaching and comes to

For The Freshmen

In the perpetual, conveyor belt-like cycles of students, which are the life blood of any school, the advent of a new freshman class is always a welcome and a motivating occasion. And so, this fall, as always, the appearance of Hamilton's new class means much: it means that you, its members, have brought to our classrooms a new need for achievement in thought (for Hamilton's purpose is to help you develope a greater mind than that with which you came); it means that you have brought a new life to our teams and activities, the success of which can help to make us all take a greater pride in ourselves; it means that we can increase our number of companions sharin in the good fellowship of our fraternities. We're really glad you're here.

If we may thumb through our recollections of a few years at Hamilton and offer one small bit of sober advice on how a freshman might most nearly achieve all of this potential which he brings, our counsel is this: never be afraid to be yourself, your very best self. You were chosen to be a Hamiltonian by virtue of your own fine individuality, and no situation confronting you should make you try to be something else. In the classroom you should never be afraid of what you don't know (provided, of course, you've done the assignment.) Never forsake your favorite sport or interest because it's too difficult, or because it's not fashionable. And you don't have to be someone you aren't to get into a Hamilton fraternity. To be your very sincerest and best self . . . . that is the most that Hamilton asks.

The Spectator Invites

Hamilton College publications are student enterprises managed and run by students for the benefit of students. The Spectator, the Continental, literary magazines, and the Hamiltonian, yearbook, all are financed largely through the publication fee levied on all students. It is only natural, then, that a maximum of student participation is necessary to make these publications acceptable to the greatest number.

The Spectator is open to such participation in two ways. First, is actual participation on the staff. Many positions are open this fall and freshmen as well as interested upperclassmen, are urged to try out for these places. Prospective staff members should attend the first staff meeting in the publications office in Root Hall basement next Monday afternoon at 4:30.

The second way to participate in the Spectator is to express your ideas on items of general interest (and these may include your ideas on the policies of the paper itself) in the Letters to the Editor column which will appear from time to time on this page. Such letters should not exceed 250 words and should be submitted no later than Tuesday night if they are to be published the following Friday.

The editors sincerely hope that you will make use of either or both of these means to participate in the publication of Hamilton's newspaper.

Ten New Members Named On Faculty's Fall Roster

Hamilton from the Political Science department at Williams.

The new instructor in Public Speaking will be Robert B. Lewis. Mr. Lewis graduated last June from Hamilton and was named the successor to Benjamin Lake. Mr. Lewis is a member of Sigma Phi and will live this year at 210 College Road.

Mr. Robert W. Lundin will fill the position of Assistant Professor inPsychology. Before coming to teach at Hamilton College, Mr. Lundin was an instructor in the Psychology department of Dennison University. He is a graduate of De Pauw University where he was a member of the Sigma Xi Fraternity. In his senior year he was elected president of his chapter. Mr. Lundin will fill the place opened when Mr. Dunbar left Hamilton last June.

The department of Romance Languages has taken two new members on its staff. They are Messrs. Frank Piano and Luis Ramirez.

Mr. Piano is a veteran who taught languages in the Army. He is a graduate of Harvard where he obtained his A. B. Cum Laude in 1942. In 1947 he earned his M. A. in Teaching at the Harvard School of Education.

Mr. Ramirez is a native of Columbia, South America. He has been living in the United States for the past nine years. His studies were undertaken in Bogata where he earned his Ph. B. and L.L. D. at the Collegio de la Salle and the Universidad Nacional de Columbia. Mr. Ramirez comes from Colgate University to Hamilton.

Another of the faculty additions this summer is Mr. Edward R. Reid, who will be an instructor in German. Mr. Reid was a graduate of Yale in 1946. He was an instructor at Yale and later took a full time position at the Mount Hermon School in Massachusetts.

To fill Professor Smith's position as head of the department of Psychology the college has obtained the services of Visiting Professor Max Schoen. Dr. Schoen who is considered an outstanding authority on the Psychology of Music and Art comes from Carnegie Institute of Technology where he has been since 1921. He spent last year teaching at Dartmouth. Dr. Schoen was born in Austria and arrived in the United States in 1900. At Carnegie Tech he was made head of the department of Education and Psychology in 1925. Dr. Schoen has written several books of which two of the latest were the*Understanding of Music,* published 1945, and Human Nature in the Making, published also in 1945. Dr. and Mrs. Schoen reside at the Colonial Apartments.

Added to the staff of the English department as an Instructor is Mr. George H. Williams. Mr. Williams is a graduate of Amherst College and has since worked as a radio writer and has done some magazine writing. Mr. Williams' wife is a graduate of Smith and is one of the few women to have been elected an honorary member of the Masquers, the Amherst College dramatic organization. Mr. and Mrs. Williams will live at 22 College Hill.

Leavenworth Scholarship Still Not Filled

The nation-wide search for a freshman by the name of Leavenworth continues at Hamilton College.

There isn't one in the incoming class of 164 men, although the college has a unique $475 annual scholarship ready and waiting for a young man named Leavenworth who can do college work.

Leavenworths, it seems, are pretty scarce. The last holder of the scholarship—Ralph W. Leavenworth, Shaker Heights, Ohio, was graduated in 1942. Since then the college has advertised widely and alumni have been searching about too, but without any luck.

This year, for example, the college ran advertisements weekly for a month in New York, Albany, Rochester, and Syracuse newspapers. Other newspapers, as far away as California and Seattle, Wash,. noted the advertisement, featured it in news columns as "This Week's Opportunity."

The situation isn't entirely hopeless, though. The college has an inquiry from a 12-year-old Leavenworth in New York and some other young Leavenworths in Birmingham, Mich. Since the scholarship was established in 1882, six men have held it—three fathers and their three sons.

The scholarship fund was set up by the late Elias W. Leavenworth. Syracuse, former New York Secretary of State and Congressman under President Garfield, to "provide for the education of the Leavenworths." The fund itself now stands at $14,294.

Council Runs Club Schedule

Student Council Chairman Thomas Gregory reported this week that members of Hamilton's student goverment are busy at work arranging an inegrated college calendar.

Gregory, assisted by senior representative Robertson Mackay, met with Dean Tolles and President McEwen this week to put the finishing touches on a master schedule assigning a specific time at which each undergraduate organization should hold its regular meetings. Gregory urged that all club presidents examine the master schedule chart, which will be displayed soon, and conform to it to avoid conflicts.

The Council also sponsored a meeting for the class of 1953 in the Chemistry Auditorium last Wednesday to acquaint freshmen with undergraduate organizations.

Gregory, speaking for the student government, said that the freshman class president, who will automatically represent his class on the Council, tember 28. Gregory also prowill be elected Wednesday, Sepmised that the Council would investgate the second hand book situation which has become aggravated by the change of textbooks in many courses.

The Council will hold its first formal meeting next Monday night.

THE SPECTATOR
HAMILTON COLLEGE

Scanning the Field

By John McMillan

Thanks to excellent teamwork between the athletic and admissions departments, Hamilton alumni, and the Block H Club, Hill athletics are looking up this fall. A new sport—cross-country—has been added to the fall schedule, and many outstanding Frosh football candidates may well make the Continentals something besides the grid doormat that they have been during the past two seasons.

Then, too, Don Jones, 29 year old football coach fresh from Rutgers, where winning ways are not unusual, has instilled in his eleven a spirit that was noticibly lacking last year. Some say that "the will to win" went out with the nineteenth century, but certainly something has been added to the gridders beside new material.

Now that Hamilton's athletic powers that be, and that includes the Block H club which did a swell job of selling this school to sub-Frosh in the Spring, have proved that they can attract good athletes to the Hill, it's up to the students to support the teams. The attendence at the four games last year was pitifully poor, and absence of backing from the student body doesn't make for winning teams—not just in football but in every sport.

In this first column of a new year, we would like to make a plea for some constructive criticism of the "Spectator" sport page. "The Spectator" is your newpaper and we want to print what you want to read. Some students have asked for more statistics and with the increased space that sports will have this year they will be carried. Moreover, minor sports, such as cross-country, skiing, swimming, golf, tennis, and intramurals will get increased emphasis. Also this space is open to anybody who disagrees with our views and wants to express his own.

But there is one thing that we can't do unless we get more than just criticism. Some complaints on the caliber of writing have been received and quite possibly they have some basis in fact. And there's nothing we can do about that unless some good writers who like sports join the staff. That's up to you. If you'd like to try out for the staff we'd be very glad to have you.

State Sponsored Citizenship Meet Held On Hill Labor Day Weekend

A young people's undertaking unique in New York state was carried on over the Labor Day weekend at the eighth annual Conference of Young Adults on public affairs and citizenship. The group met at the Hamilton Campus.

The conference, which attracted more than 150 men and women between the ages of 18 and 30, was sponsored by the State Education Department and the State Community Service of Young Adults.

The conference was carried on in the form of a model congress, with groups presenting bills on four aspects of current life. Preceding the actual meeting, some of the delegates arrived on the Hamilton campus the previous Tuesday for the annual vacation get-together of the Young Adults group.

Scheduled for discussion in the Saturday afternoon open meeting were bills on economic planning, prepared by an Albany group, on Federal aid to education, prepared by a Schenectady group, on foreign relations, prepared by an Endicott group, and on public health, prepared by a Glens Falls group.

The Experiment in International Living, in which young adults from the United States spend periods with families in Europe, won high acclaim from De Witt John, foreign department of the Christian Science Monitor, at the closing luncheon of the conference.

"If international understanding is to come about sooner, it can be built on such personal relationships as this ambassador project permits," he said as he introduced three who took part in the program this year.

47 Candidates Bolster Strong Soccer Squad

Facing a tough six game schedule and succeeding the most successful Hamilton College soccer team, 47 candidates have received uniforms from Coach John Panatier and have been underway in their conditioning and practicing for almost a week at Steuben Field.

In his initial year as the soccer mentor, Coach Panatier organized a superbly conditioned, hard fighting eleven that won three contests, lost one and tied two more. Most notable in the year's record was the 2-2 deadlock with Brockport which boasted four All-Americans. This year's schedule is even tougher because Utica College and Buffalo Teachers, both of whom fell before the Blue onslaught, have been replaced by Union and Ithaca while Brockport, Colgate, the only conquerors of the Blue last season, Rochester, and Oswego have been rescheduled.

Despite the presence of twelve veterans of last season and the expected arrivals of Co-capt. Bob Bloomer and Al Vollmer, sensational inside of last year's front line, the team will sorely miss Russ Osborn and Basil Controvenesius, the crack fullbacks, who graduated, and Bob Mackay, first string center who will not be able to play this year because of injuries to his

JV Football Team Planned This Year

With more than 50 men out for football, Hamilton's head grid coach, Don Jones, announced plans early this week to form a Junior Varsity squad which will probably play a three game schedule.

Jones will cut his squad after the Cortland scrimmage Saturday. He plans to carry about 40 men on the varsity, and will move players from the J. V. to the Varsity if they show sufficient improvement.

The new mentor also urged all Freshmen and upperclassmen who are interested in playing football to turn out for the J. V. team, which will be coached by Greg Batt, even though they may not have had previous experience.

Jones Sharpens Hill Defense; Key Scrimmage Tomorrow

Working with more than 50 candidates, including 20 freshman, Hamilton's new head football coach, Don Jones, appears to be molding a better than average Continental eleven.

The Continentals biggest preseason test is coming up tomorrow afternoon when they face a powerful Cortland squad on Steuben Field in a practice scrimmage. In last week's game against Clarkson the Blue were at least two touchdowns better than the visitors, but a year ago Cortland walloped the upstate engineering school by a five goal margin.

Hamilton's first game is two weeks from tomorrow with Allegeney, 19-0 victors over the Blue in 1948, at Meadville, Pa. Then on succesive Saturdays the Continentals meet Middlebury, Oberlin, always tough Haverford, Hobart Earlham, and Union.

Coach Jones was greeted September first, the initial day of practice, by 47 candidates, one of the largest turnouts in the school's history. They have been working twice a day until Thursday when the start of classes forced a cutback to one session daily.

So far the Freshman players have stolen the spotlight from Jones' veterans as far as student interest is concerned. One of the top Frosh is Dick Gummerlock, a graduate of Rutgers Prep. where he made last year's All-New Jersey eleven. Being used at a halfback in the "T" formation, Gummerlock has impressed observors by his hard running and speed.

Among Gummerlock's Frosh compatriots in the backfield are fullbacks Byrne Kinney and Don Robertson, and halfbacks Don Abrahams, Jerry Gard, Al Persons, and Jim Lenox. In the line ends Bill Saunders, and Bill Blood, guards Dick Freytag, Tom Farmer, and Alden Mills, and center Tim Colt have so far made excellent impressions.

However, Hamilton's upperclass gridsters have by no means been relegated to the background by this influx of Freshman. Johnny Warren and Ray Powers have been alternating in the vitally important quarterback spot in the "T" while halfbacks Ace Lawrence, Bob Milkey, Harry Thornton and fullback Jim Scala have shown up well.

Captain Bob Brown at center, along with Norb Matzinger, the Blue's best line backer-up in 1948, anchor Line Coach Pete Dugan's forward wall. They are flanked by guards Bob Fry, Danny Yale, and Harry Bates, tackles Dave Nadal, Jim Brown, Bill Trickey, and Jim Scott, and ends Marty Fribush, Jim Sonthemer, and Don Thomas.

The team has met usual Hamilton luck as far as injuries go. At this writing Nadal, Jim Williams, Fry, Galvin, Thomas, and Yale are out with assorted ailments, but Jones expects them to be in shape for the initial game of the regular season.

In last Saturday's scrimmage the Blue unleashed a powerful attack but showed considerable lack of polish in defense, Hamilton outscored Clarkson five touchdowns to four, but in a regular game the Blue would have probably had a bigger edge.

Hamilton opened the Clarkson scrimmage, in which each team had the ball for a certain lenght of time, by geeting two quick touchdowns after marching the lenght of the field on 13 and 14 plays. Jim Scala got the first six-pointers, plunging over from the 2 foot line while Al Persons racked up the second score.

The Blue's third touchdown was largely the result of a 69 yard off-tackle run by Gum-legs. However, through shifting some of his veterans to other key positions and careful studying of the fifteen freshmen, other holdovers from last year, and other newcomers from the upperclasses, Coach Panatier should field a capable and skilled aggregation.

Since Sunday's first call, Coach Panatier has concentrated on conditioning and on fundamentals. Calisthenics and extended jaunts around the soccer field and around the golf course have been featured in the sessions. Also, various dribbling, passing, and shooting exercises have been stressed, and the fullbacks have been working on long range booting and on assisting the goalie on defense. Tuesday afternoon, the first intrasquad scrimmage was held with Phil Hills heading the freshmen's performances.

There will be an organizational meeting of the Spectator staff Monday afternoon at 4:30 in Root Hall Basement.

merlock, who scored three plays later. Minutes later Gummerlock took off on an 80 yard jaunt after receiving a lateral from Jonny Warren, to score the next to the last touchdown. Hamilton's final tally came late in the game whem Dick Grimley intercepted a pass and sprinted 20 yards to the goal line.

Hamilton's defense failed to hold the big Clarkson eleven until late in the game when a combination of linemen, Sontheimer, Freshman Ralph Rogers, Farmer, Bates, Scott, and Fribush along with backers-up Mills and Colt, halfbacks Bob Cornelius, and Grimley, and fullback Dick Murray stopped the visitors for fourteen consecutive plays.

Lambda Chi's To Move Up Hill Soon; Will Occupy Fancher Guest House

As decided last Spring by the college administration the Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity will move their location from the bottom of College Hill to the Fancher Guest House located behind the Hall of Science. A certain number of repairs make it necessary for the Lambda Chi's to remain in their present house until sometime around the 24th of this month. At that time they will occupy the Guest House.

The chapter has taken a one-year lease on the college-owned Fancher House, with an option to renew the lease annually for the next five years. The Fancher House, given to the college in 1942 by Prof. Paul A. Fancher upon his retirement from the faculty, has been a two-apartment faculty dwelling for the past three years.

that their club should be an important cog in the physical and cultural make-up of the liberal arts college. In order to reach this position the Club realizes that it must undertake a great deal more than would normally be needed to insure its success. A tentative plan, to be further discussed on Monday, has been formulated to organize the year's activities:

1. Election of officers and a statement of the club's policy.

2. Reconditioning of all available theatrical equipment without the addition of new equipment until later in the year when the club is financially more sound.

3. Plan one three-act play for the first semester as the feature presentation of the club.

4. Organize a small financial committee which would attempt by various productions and activities to raise money for the club.

5. Buy some new equipment with the money raised during the first semester.
